9. Brief Summary of the Activity/Event:

   a. Objectives : The main Objective of the Git GitHub Workshop is to provide in-depth Knowledge about how Git GitHub works and how we can use it.

   b. Description: The Git workshop started off with the basic Git commands. A sample repository was used to explain. Concepts including branching, merging, repository creation, etc. were covered.With the basic command-line out of the way, the internals of Git was covered next. The internals of Git was explained, by building a model of a Git like version control system from scratch. The discussion started with building a single file version control system, and then adding support for commit logs, branching, merging, and finally multi-file support. The purpose and use of staging was also discussed.

   c. Outcomes: Upon Completion of the workshop, Students should be able to:

      1. Understand what Git-Github is and also its components.

      2. It also gave a brief knowledge on about repository in git-github, cheatsheets, etc.

6. Brief Summary of the Activity/Event:

   a. Objectives : The primary goal of organizing the "Tech Memes" online contest was to provide participants with a platform to creatively express their humour and insights related to the field of technology

   b. Description: The "Tech Memes" contest invited tech enthusiasts to share their witty and humorous takes on various technological concepts, trends, and situations through the medium of memes. Participants submitted their original memes, incorporating elements of technology, innovation, coding, gadgets, and more. The contest aimed to foster a light-hearted yet insightful exploration of the tech world's intricacies.

   c. Outcomes : The contest prompted a surge of creativity, with participants producing a wide array of memes that showcased their understanding of tech-related subjects. The event not only entertained but also provided a fresh perspective on technological themes, making them more relatable and engaging for a broader audience. By blending humour and technology, the contest helped break down complex concepts into digestible and enjoyable content.

6. Brief Summary of the Activity/Event:

   a. Objective: The online contest, "Brand Builder", Logo Design Edition aims to encourage participants to create unique and meaningful logos while highlighting the importance of effective logo design.

b. Description: The "Brand Builder" contest will be organized on a digital platform. Participants will be encouraged to craft unique and meaningful logos based on a provided theme. The contest will be an engaging and interactive experience, offering a platform for participants to explore their creative potential in logo design. No creative constraints will be imposed, enabling contestants to fully express their ideas. During the contest, participants will have the freedom to employ any design tool of their choice to create their logos. The theme for the contest will already be provided, allowing participants to focus solely on their creative execution. Moreover, plagiarism will not be tolerated, and stringent measures will be in place to identify and penalize any instances of plagiarized content.

c. Outcomes: Participants will develop their logo design skills, understand the significance of originality, and grasp how logos reflect brand identity. This experience will foster creativity and provide practical design insights for their future endeavors.

d. Attendance of Participants:

6. Brief Summary of the UI/UX Design Contest:

a. Objectives: The primary objective of organizing the UI/UX design contest was to foster a creative and competitive spirit among participants while enhancing their skills in user interface and user experience (UI/UX) design.

b. Description: This contest revolved around evaluating participants' abilities to create visually appealing and user-friendly interfaces. It aimed to test their skills in designing intuitive user experiences, considering aspects such as layout, navigation, color schemes, typography, and overall aesthetics.

c. Outcomes: The UI/UX design contest served as a platform for participants to showcase their design talents. Through this competition, participants were able to develop a deeper understanding of user-centered design principles, information architecture, and the effective use of design tools. The event contributed to the improvement of participants' creative thinking, attention to detail, and ability to empathize with end-users, all of which are crucial in the field of UI/UX design. Ultimately, the contest played a role in honing participants' design skills, encouraging innovative approaches, and fostering their growth as UI/UX designers.

6. Brief Summary of the Activity/Event:

   a. Objectives: The main objective of conducting this event is to achieve networking,Investor Engagement,Startup Exposure,,Knowledge sharing,Pitch opportunities,Learning and education,Promotion of Innovation,Global Reach and Partnership Opportunities.

   b. Description: The event on Virtual Venture was conducted on all three days of technovation. A "virtual venture" typically refers to a business or entrepreneurial endeavor that operates primarily or entirely in a digital or online environment. This could encompass various aspects of modern business, technology, and innovation.

   c. Outcomes : Through this event, students gained a profound understanding of the intricacies involved in operating a virtual venture, from setting up seamless e-commerce platforms and executing effective digital marketing strategies to engaging customers in a personalized online environment. The event underscored the pivotal role of data analytics, imparting skills to interpret customer behavior data and glean insights for strategic decision-making. Participants delved into the innovative spirit that drives virtual ventures, witnessing how adaptability and innovation are essential for thriving in the ever-evolving digital landscape. The event's global perspective showcased how virtual ventures harness the power of the internet to access international markets, highlighting the significance of tailoring strategies to diverse cultural contexts. Additionally, students honed their entrepreneurial mindset, discovering the art of risk-taking, resilience, and creative problem-solving that underpin successful virtual ventures.
