8. Brief Summary of Event :

- a. Objectives: The objective of the Common Yoga Practice Training organized by the University of Mumbai in collaboration with Kaivalyadham on the occasion of International Yoga Day was to educate NSS volunteers in basic yoga techniques. This initiative aimed to enable volunteers to conduct yoga sessions within their respective college premises, thereby promoting the practice and awareness of yoga among students. The training also sought to highlight the physical and mental health benefits of yoga, fostering a holistic approach to well-being. Additionally, it aimed to cultivate a culture of regular yoga practice, enhance mindfulness, and reduce stress among the student community.
- b. Description: From June 17 to 19, 2024, the University of Mumbai organized a yoga training program for NSS volunteers in collaboration with Kaivalyadham. Each day featured practical and theory sessions. Day 1 commenced with an inauguration by IAS officer Manisha Verma, along with Kaivalyadham members. The practical session was followed by a theory session on the history and origin of yoga by Manish Sir, and math tricks by Minoo Sir. On Day 2, after the practical session, Mrs. Shilpa delivered a lecture on yoga anatomy and physiology, followed by a session on diet and nutrition by Mrs. Aruna. On Day 3, after the yoga practice, Anvita Dixit gave a lecture on Ashtanga Yoga, explaining its eight limbs: Yama, Niyama, Pranayama, Pratyahara, Dharana, Dhyana, and Samadhi. Additionally, Mr. Dilip delivered a speech on lifestyle disorders. The sessions enriched

9. Brief Summary of Activity/Event :

- a. Objectives: A sanitary pad donation drive has several key goals. First, it provides essential menstrual products to people who need them, helping them stay healthy and comfortable. It also aims to prevent health problems that can come from poor menstrual hygiene and ensures that everyone can maintain their dignity during their period. The drive helps reduce missed days at school or work because of a lack of supplies. Additionally, it raises awareness about menstrual health, promoting better understanding and support in the community.

b. Description:

The NSS volunteers of FCRIT organized a sanitary pad donation drive as part of their "Break the Barrier" initiative, aimed at addressing menstrual hygiene challenges. The event focused on providing sanitary pads to underprivileged individuals, helping to ensure that no one misses school or work due to a lack of menstrual products. By distributing these essential supplies, the volunteers promoted health, dignity, and empowerment among the recipients. The initiative also raised awareness about the importance of menstrual hygiene, breaking stigmas associated with it. Through collective effort, the drive fostered community solidarity, making a meaningful impact on both the volunteers and those they served.

c. Outcomes:

The NSS unit of FCRIT successfully conducted a sanitary pad donation drive, providing much-needed menstrual hygiene supplies to individuals in need. This initiative helped improve access to essential products, promoting better health and dignity among recipients. The event fostered a sense of community support and raised awareness about menstrual hygiene. It also encouraged ongoing participation in similar social causes.

9. Brief Summary of Activity/Event :

a. Objectives:

Promoting literacy through book donations encourages reading and learning by giving students and the community access to a diverse range of materials. It fosters a culture of sharing, where individuals pass on knowledge by donating books they no longer need. These donations also support underprivileged students, ensuring they have access to essential textbooks and reading materials. By reusing and recycling books, the initiative promotes sustainability and reduces waste, preventing valuable resources from being discarded.

b. Description:

The "Book Jhola" book donation event was a three-day initiative organized during the Faces by NSS FCRIT aimed at promoting literacy and the joy of reading within our campus community. The event encouraged students, faculty, and staff to donate books of all genres, including textbooks, novels, and non-fiction. "Book Jhola" successfully brought the campus community together, creating a vibrant atmosphere where the love for books and learning was celebrated. By the end of the event, a substantial number of books had been collected, which will be redistributed to those in need, fostering a culture of reading and learning beyond the confines of the campus. This initiative highlighted the power of collective effort in making a positive impact on society.

c. Outcomes:

The "Book Jhola" event successfully collected a substantial number of books, reflecting the generosity and community spirit of the participants. The diverse range of books will soon benefit schools, libraries, or underprivileged communities, promoting literacy and spreading knowledge. Once donated, these books will create educational opportunities for those in need, inspiring future generations of readers and learners. The event has laid the foundation for lasting positive impact within the community and beyond.

strengthening their commitment to community support and collaboration with local authorities.

- b. Description: On 12th and 17th September 2024, NSS FCRIT volunteers collaborated with Mumbai Police to manage the crowd and conduct Nirmalya (floral offerings) collection during Ganpati Visarjan in Vashi. Volunteers guided the large number of devotees, ensuring smooth movement and safety, while assisting in traffic management to avoid congestion. Additionally, they collected Nirmalya, promoting eco-friendly practices by encouraging devotees to responsibly dispose of floral waste.
- c. Outcomes: The crowd management and Nirmalya collection by NSS FCRIT volunteers during Ganpati Visarjan in Vashi positively impacted the environment. By collecting floral waste, the team reduced pollution in water bodies, promoting eco-friendly disposal practices among devotees. Volunteers' efforts helped minimize littering, keeping public spaces cleaner and preserving the area's natural surroundings.

7. Brief Summary of Activity/Event :

- a. Objectives: The objective was to raise awareness about sexual violence, addressing its impact and encouraging a supportive campus environment. Through this street play, NSS FCRIT volunteers aimed to educate students on recognizing signs of harassment and understanding consent. The performance focused on breaking stigmas around discussing sexual violence, empowering students to speak up and seek help. Volunteers also aimed to highlight the importance of bystander intervention, fostering a sense of responsibility among peers.

- b. Description: On 24th September 2024, NSS FCRIT volunteers performed a street play on campus addressing the topic of sexual violence. The play featured two scenes: in the first, a girl faced harassment with no intervention, highlighting the bystander effect. In the second, similar harassment occurred, but this time, people around her raised their voices in support, showing the impact of intervention. The performance aimed to raise awareness about the importance of taking action against harassment and empowering students to speak up.
- c. Outcomes: The street play on sexual violence created a ripple effect across the campus, fostering a heightened awareness and sensitivity in the community. Students and staff alike became more conscious of the importance of addressing harassment openly, resulting in a more supportive and watchful environment. Conversations sparked by the play encouraged individuals to reflect on their roles in preventing violence and promoting respect. The event helped build a safer campus culture, empowering bystanders to act and reducing tolerance for harassment.

8. Brief Summary of Activity/Event :

- a. Objectives: The objective was to reduce litter and restore cleanliness along the Vashi Highway, promoting environmental awareness and responsibility. NSS FCRIT volunteers aimed to remove waste, improve the aesthetic appeal of the area, and ensure safer surroundings for commuters and pedestrians. The initiative sought to raise public awareness about the impact of littering and encourage the local community to contribute to cleanliness efforts. Volunteers also aimed to inspire sustainable habits, like waste segregation and responsible disposal.
- b. Description: On 29th September 2024, NSS FCRIT volunteers organized a clean-up drive along the Vashi Highway, working to clear litter and restore the area's cleanliness. Armed with gloves and bags, volunteers collected plastic, paper, and other waste, improving both the appearance and safety of the highway for commuters and pedestrians. The initiative aimed to raise awareness about the

- 3. Number of Student Volunteers : 17
- 4. Student Coordinator : Vidhushi Bhardhwaj
- 5. Staff Coordinator : Prof Rahul Jadhav
- 6. Brief Summary of Activity/Event :

- a. Objectives: The objective was to educate students on the importance of safe and eco-friendly sanitary pad disposal practices. NSS FCRIT volunteers aimed to raise awareness about the environmental impact of improper disposal and provide guidance on hygienic methods. The demonstration sought to inform students about available disposal systems, encouraging the use of biodegradable or designated disposal solutions. By promoting responsible habits, the event aimed to reduce waste and contamination issues within the campus.
- b. Description: On 30th September 2024, NSS FCRIT volunteers conducted a sanitary pad disposal demonstration on campus to promote safe, eco-friendly disposal practices. The session educated students on the environmental impact of improper sanitary waste disposal and introduced hygienic disposal methods. Volunteers demonstrated the use of biodegradable products and specialized disposal bins, encouraging students to adopt these practices. The event also addressed menstrual health openly, helping to reduce stigma around the topic.
- c. Outcomes: The sanitary pad disposal demonstration created a noticeable shift in campus waste management, with students increasingly using designated bins and adopting eco-friendly disposal practices. This contributed to a cleaner, more hygienic environment in restrooms and common areas. The event raised awareness about the environmental impact of sanitary waste, motivating students to be mindful of their disposal habits. The open discussion reduced stigma around menstrual health, fostering a more supportive atmosphere on campus.

- a. Objectives: The objective was to promote the Swachh Bharat mission, highlighting the importance of cleanliness and community responsibility. Through this street play, NSS FCRIT volunteers aimed to educate students on the impact of individual actions on public hygiene and the environment. The performance sought to inspire students to actively participate in keeping their surroundings clean and to adopt sustainable practices like waste segregation. Volunteers also aimed to encourage a sense of pride and ownership in maintaining a healthy campus.
- b. Description: On 1st October 2024, NSS FCRIT volunteers performed a powerful street play on the theme "Swachata Hi Seva" in the college campus. The play highlighted the importance of cleanliness and responsible waste management, emphasizing every individual's role in creating a cleaner environment. Through engaging scenes, volunteers illustrated the impact of littering and the benefits of sustainable practices like waste segregation. The performance encouraged students to take pride in maintaining a clean campus, inspiring action towards the Swachh Bharat mission.
- c. Outcomes: The street play on "Swachata Hi Seva" led to a noticeable increase in cleanliness across the campus as students became more mindful of their waste disposal habits. Following the performance, many students actively participated in keeping their surroundings tidy, leading to a cleaner environment overall. - a. Objectives: The objective was to organize and maintain a clean, conducive environment within the college library for effective learning. NSS FCRIT volunteers aimed to clear clutter, arrange books, and ensure that study spaces were tidy and welcoming for students. The event sought to raise awareness about the importance of cleanliness in shared spaces, encouraging students to respect and maintain the library's condition. By decluttering and organizing, the volunteers also aimed to make library resources more accessible.
- b. Description: On 27th September 2024, NSS FCRIT volunteers conducted a clean-up drive in both the degree and diploma sections of the college library. Volunteers worked together to organize books, clear clutter, and ensure that study spaces were clean and inviting. The event aimed to create a more organized and accessible library environment, benefiting all students. Volunteers promoted the importance of respecting shared spaces and encouraged a culture of cleanliness.
- c. Outcomes: The library clean-up by NSS FCRIT volunteers led to a more organized, welcoming, and functional space for students and staff. Books became easier to locate, improving access to resources and creating a smoother study experience. The cleaner environment inspired students to maintain cleanliness and organization in shared spaces, fostering respect for library facilities. Reduced clutter also enhanced the library's ambiance, encouraging more students to utilize it for studying.

NSS FCRIT volunteers aimed to raise awareness about the ecological significance of mangroves in coastal protection and biodiversity. The event sought to engage students in environmental conservation, fostering a sense of responsibility towards nature. Volunteers aimed to promote community involvement and educate participants on sustainable practices to preserve these vital ecosystems.
- b. Description: On 2nd October 2024, NSS FCRIT volunteers participated in a mangrove cleanup at Karave, dedicating their efforts to restore the vital coastal ecosystem. Armed with gloves and bags, volunteers worked together to collect plastic waste and debris, significantly improving the area's cleanliness. The event not only aimed to protect the mangroves but also to educate participants about their ecological importance in preventing coastal erosion and supporting biodiversity.
- c. Outcomes: The mangrove cleanup at Karave significantly improved the ecological health of the area by removing plastic waste and debris that threatened local wildlife. The removal of litter enhanced the habitat for various species, promoting biodiversity within the mangrove ecosystem. This initiative helped restore the natural beauty of the coastline, encouraging more community members to appreciate and visit the area. The event raised awareness about the importance of mangroves in protecting coastal regions from erosion and flooding.

- a. Objectives: The main objective of the event was to raise awareness about the importance of voting, emphasizing the message that "every single vote matters." It aimed to encourage civic responsibility, increase voter turnout, debunk common voting myths, and highlight how elections impact daily life. The event also sought to promote informed voting, inclusivity, and equality, while fostering community engagement and trust in the electoral system. Additionally, it encouraged voter registration and aimed to inspire individuals to actively participate in shaping their future through the democratic process.
- b. Description: With the aim of spreading awareness about voting, the NSS Unit of FCRIT visited the FCRIT Vashi college and approached all the faculty, staff members, teaching and non-teaching staff as well. The volunteers distributed posters and provided information about the importance of voting. Additionally, they took the time to explain the significance of voting to everyone, emphasizing how every single vote matters. The students of NSS worked collaboratively to ensure that the message was effectively communicated to all individuals on campus. Through this effort, they successfully raised

9. Brief Summary of Activity/Event

- a. Objectives: The Pulse Polio Immunization Drive aimed to administer polio vaccine drops to children under the age of 5 to ensure their immunity against polio and support the nation's goal of eradicating the disease. Additionally, few children above the age of 5 also received the polio dose as a part of drive. This initiative aligns with the government's broader strategy to prevent the resurgence of polio in India. The campaign aimed to increase awareness about the importance of vaccination, ensure comprehensive coverage in the densely populated area of Dharavi, and support the national goal of eradicating polio by reaching every child.

- b. Description: The event was organized by the NSS Unit of FCRIT in collaboration with the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC) under the nationwide Pulse Polio Immunization Campaign. Volunteers were stationed at designated booths to administer oral polio vaccine drops to children. They assisted health workers, guided families to the booths, and ensured smooth execution of the drive. Additionally, volunteers raised awareness about the importance of immunization through direct interaction with parents and caregivers.

ACTIVITIES:

1. Setting up booths at key locations in Dharavi for vaccination.
2. Guiding families to the booths and ensuring children received their doses.
3. Disseminating educational material about polio and the need for regular immunization

- c. Outcomes: Significant number of children under the age of five was vaccinated; ensuring they received critical immunity against polio. Additionally 56 children above the age of 5 took the polio dose. In total 1693 children were vaccinated, achieving 50.20% of target population of 3,261. The active participation of NSS volunteers and collaboration with healthcare workers facilitated a well-organized and efficient campaign. The drive not only increased vaccination coverage but also raised awareness among parents about the importance of routine immunization, fostering a sense of trust in public health initiatives. The efforts of the volunteers, especially in guiding families and managing the booths, were instrumental in reaching the target population effectively.

7. Brief Summary of Activity/Event :

- a. Objectives: The NSS FCRIT organized a reading event for students at Balbhavan with the primary objective of raising awareness about the transformative power of reading. The event emphasized that "reading enriches lives and minds," aiming to inspire students to embrace a culture of lifelong learning. It sought to encourage young minds to explore the vast world of books, shaping their perspectives, broadening their horizons, and nurturing intellectual curiosity. The initiative also focused on fostering informed thinking, inclusivity, and a love for literature among students. By creating an engaging and supportive environment, the volunteers aimed to build a sense of community among budding readers, motivating them to prioritize reading as a tool for personal and academic growth.
- b. Description: The NSS FCRIT organized a reading event at Balbhavan to inspire a love for books and highlight the importance of reading in personal and intellectual growth. The event featured storytelling, book discussions, and interactive activities, fostering critical thinking, empathy, and inclusivity. Students explored various books and were encouraged to embrace reading as a daily habit, recognizing its role in shaping knowledge and perspectives. The event successfully nurtured a passion for lifelong learning and strengthened the connection between students and the transformative power of literature.
- c. Outcomes: The reading event at Balbhavan had a positive and lasting impact on the students. It successfully sparked their interest in reading and encouraged them to explore books beyond their academic curriculum. Many students expressed newfound enthusiasm for literature and pledged to make reading a regular habit.

The event also improved students' confidence in expressing their thoughts and ideas during discussions, fostering critical thinking and open-mindedness. The inclusive approach helped create a supportive environment where every student felt valued and motivated to participate.

7. Brief Summary of Activity/Event :

- a. Objectives: The primary objective of the book donation drive was to encourage students and faculty to contribute books that could be donated to underprivileged communities, schools, or libraries in need. The initiative aimed to promote the habit of reading, support education for those who lack access to resources, and foster a sense of social responsibility among participants.
- b. Description: The book donation drive was organized as part of Etamax, our college's annual fest, and was conducted over three days, from February 13 to February 15. The event was set up in a designated area within the campus, with posters and announcements made to encourage participation. A collection booth was operated daily from 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM, with volunteers working in three shifts, each consisting of two volunteers per slot. This ensured that there was always someone available to receive books and engage with potential donors.
- c. Outcomes: Although the drive did not meet its initial expectations in terms of the number of books collected, it still managed to raise awareness about the importance of book donations and community engagement. The books that were received will be distributed to beneficiaries as planned. Additionally, the initiative provided valuable insights into student participation levels, interest in social causes, and potential areas for improvement in organizing similar events in the future.

The event featured a wide array of free health checkups, including Eye Checkups, Dental Checkups, BMI Analysis, Gynecologist Consultation, Quantum Resonance Magnetic Health Analysis, Ayurvedic Consultations, and Skin & Hair Assessments. A nominal fee of Rs 30 was charged for the Sugar Test, which required fasting beforehand. Volunteers from NSS FCRIT played a pivotal role in managing registrations, guiding participants, promoting the event, and ensuring the overall success of the camp. The event was held in various college locations (AX-207, AX-209, AX-211) to provide convenient access to all students, faculty, and staff.

c. Outcomes: The Health Checkup Camp saw active participation from the college community and successfully raised awareness about the importance of health checkups. It encouraged proactive healthcare habits and provided valuable screenings for early health issue detection. Additionally, the event strengthened community engagement and social responsibility among NSS FCRIT volunteers, helping them contribute meaningfully to the health and well-being of the college population.

7. Brief Summary of Activity/Event :

a. Objectives:

1. To spread awareness about the harmful effects of tobacco consumption.
2. To educate the audience on how tobacco addiction affects individuals, families, and society.
3. To inspire people to take a stand against tobacco and encourage a healthier, smoke-free lifestyle.

b. Description:

On 13th February 2025, the National Service Scheme (NSS) organized a thought provoking skit to highlight the dangers of tobacco use and its severe impact on health. The skit was performed by a group of passionate NSS volunteers who portrayed real-life scenarios of how tobacco addiction ruins lives. The storyline followed the journey of a young student who, under peer pressure, starts using tobacco. Over time, he faces deteriorating health, strained relationships, and emotional turmoil. The performance ended with a powerful message on quitting tobacco and choosing a healthier lifestyle, urging the audience to pledge against tobacco use. The engaging dialogues, expressive acting, and emotional depth of the skit captivated the audience, leaving them with a strong sense of responsibility toward promoting a tobacco-free society.

c. Outcomes:

1. The skit created a strong impact by visually demonstrating the harmful effects of tobacco, making the message more relatable and memorable.
2. Several students and faculty members appreciated the initiative, emphasizing the need for more such awareness programs.
3. The event reinforced the role of NSS in social responsibility, inspiring more volunteers to take part in health awareness campaigns.

a. Objectives: The primary objective of volunteering for the Women's Marathon under NSS is to promote women's empowerment by encouraging their participation in sports and fitness activities. Volunteers play a crucial role in ensuring the safety and security of participants by assisting in crowd management, first aid, and emergency response. Additionally, the event serves as a platform to spread awareness about women's health, fitness, and rights, fostering a sense of confidence and inclusivity. NSS volunteers contribute to the smooth organization of the marathon by supporting logistics such as registration, hydration points, route guidance, and medal distribution.

b. Description: The NSS unit actively participated in the Women's Marathon held at Khanda Colony, an event aimed at promoting women's empowerment, health, and fitness. The marathon saw enthusiastic participation from women of various age groups, coming together to celebrate strength, resilience, and equality. NSS volunteers played a crucial role in ensuring the smooth execution of the event by managing hydration points, guiding participants along the route, assisting in crowd control, and providing first aid and emergency support when needed. Additionally, the volunteers provided pilot vehicles to track the first three winners, ensuring accurate monitoring and coordination during the race.
